

The poster Universality-based concentration for sums of dependent random matrices received a best poster award at the 21st INFORMS Applied Probability Society Conference. Associated with the best poster reward is a prize of two Springer books.

There were more than 70 posters at this conference and only 6 best poster awards were awarded.